

United Capital Wealth For Women Fund | Monthly Fact Sheet

June-21

FUND OBJECTIVE

The objective of the United Capital Wealth for Women Fund is to promote the financial inclusion of the female gender by increasing their access to financial investment products and addressing the current imbalance of most investment products being skewed towards the male gender.

The Fund Manager seeks to maintain a balance between realized income and capital growth to ensure regular distribution payments and continuous appreciation in asset values while ensuring optimal safety of assets and adequate liquidity to meet the Fund's obligations as they fall due. The Fund invests in money markets and equities. The equity portfolio is tilted towards companies with significant female representation on their boards and management teams.

MARKET REVIEW, OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

The Nigerian equity market closed the month in the red, primarily driven by sell-offs in AIRTELAF (-20.3% m/m) as well as insurance stocks. The benchmark index, NSE All-Share Index, lost 1.4% on a m/m basis, closing the month at 37,907.28 points. Consequently, YTD loss expanded to 5.9%, while market capitalization printed at N19.8tn at the end of Jun-2021.

Similarly, the secondary money market continued to witness bearish sentiments despite decline in stop rates at recent PMAs. In the secondary NT-bills market, average NT-bill yields inched higher by 48bps to close at 6.58% (previously 6.10%) in June. Similarly, in the OMO market, average yield increased by 19bps to 9.87% (previously 9.68%). Contrarily, the bonds market turned bullish as average sovereign bond yield fell m/m for the first time in six months, down 66bps m/m to 11.8% in June from 12.5% at the end of May.

This month, we expect to see buying interest on stocks that deliver solid corporate earnings amidst the broad bearish sentiments. However, our long-term position for the quarter on equities remains largely bearish. For bonds, sovereign bond maturities and coupon inflows totalling N815.0bn is expected to hit the bonds market. Investors expecting this huge liquidity are expected to reinvest in new bonds, creating strong demand for bonds and consequently driving yields lower.

PERFORMANCE REVIEW

The United Capital Wealth For Women Fund returned 2.62% on a year to date ("YTD") basis, compared to the composite benchmark (91-day T-bills and the ASI) return of -0.52% for the same period.

The mixed trend in the equities market impacted positively on the Fund. However, the Fund's holding in money market instruments helped improve returns in light of the increasing interest rate. We remain conservative in line with the investment policy objectives, as our selection of fundamentally strong stocks and high yielding money market instruments should enhance the performance of the Fund going forward.

Investment Risks

- Market risk of equity exposure
- Macroeconomic instability
